

FOLLEN CHURCH SOCIETY POLICY ON SAFETY

Passed by the Parish Board - June 1, 2011

I. Covenant

We, the congregation of Follen Community Church, wish to be a welcoming and inclusive congregation that is a safe and life-affirming place for the people who trust Follen to be their congregational home. We respect the worth and dignity of every individual. It is ultimately the responsibility of the entire congregation, not just those in leadership positions, or formally signed Members, but all community participants, to work to create and maintain a climate that supports the growth and welfare of everyone in the congregation.

Consistent with this spirit, we covenant to work to develop policies and practices that promote safety in congregational life and to provide training and guidelines for handling unsafe situations. We strive to take steps to promote a safe environment and covenant to address whatever problems arise with courage, equity, compassion and the thoughtful application of our Unitarian Universalist values and principles.

II. Safety policy making, implementation, and leadership

- The Parish Board is responsible for developing policies regarding safety and updating those policies as appropriate.
- The Program Council is responsible for implementing and managing safety policy through the Action Teams and the staff. This includes periodic training for staff and Action Teams regarding safety policy and procedures.
- There will be a feedback loop between policy and practice that (1) strives to ensure that policies are being implemented, and (2) identifies problems with implementation that may need to be reconciled through new or revised policies.
- The Coordinating Team (the Minister, Administrator, Board Chair and Vice Chair, and Program Council President and Vice President) is responsible for working to ensure that policies and operations regarding safety are in accord and continue to be in accord over time.

III. Safety concerns

There are many aspects of safety that might be addressed in policy and in practice. These concerns of the Congregation and the aspects of safety may change over time and with evolving knowledge and experience. Listed below and detailed in turn below are the concerns covered in this statement of safety policy.

- A. Response to incidents or situations that pose safety concerns.
- B. Safety in relation to Follen Members and Friends who may have criminal histories of concern. This safety issue is addressed in policies for conducting, reviewing, and acting on record checks through the state Criminal Offender Record Information (CORI) system.

- C. Safety for children and youth in the Follen Community.
- D. Physical safety in Follen's buildings and on its grounds for all Members, Friends, and visitors.
- E. The responsibilities and restrictions on ministers concerning their intimate relationships with Follen Members and Friends.

A. Incident Management

Incident Response Group: An Incident Response Group (IRG) will be formed and maintained to review and act on any and all incidents or situations that may pose dangers to, and/or may be reported by, Follen staff, Members, Friends, youth, or others who participate in our events or use our space. The IRG will consist of the Minister, the Director/Minister of Religious Education, the Program Council President, and the head of the Lay Ministers. If the IRG believes that it needs additional expertise, it may use consultants from within or outside the congregation. Also, the IRG may decide that one of its members should recuse himself or herself. In such cases, the IRG may choose a suitable alternate, if one is needed.

How to bring issues to the IRG: Members, Friends, and staff who have a concern about safety or who know of an unsafe situation should contact a member of the IRG as soon as possible. The person reporting the situation or incident, or a member of the IRG, will enter appropriate information on the Incident Report form, which will serve as a record of the incident and how it was addressed. Each of the members of the IRG will be prepared to present the issue to the rest of the IRG in an appropriate manner and in a timely fashion. Other paths for conveying concerns about abuse or harassment issues or incidents include the other lay ministers and staff members, who should make efforts to notify a member of the IRG in a timely fashion.

Range of issues and actions: With one exception, the IRG should be informed of and consider the need to be involved in all incidents and situations concerning safety under this policy, including safety in the building and on the grounds, and safety for children, youth and other vulnerable individuals from physical, sexual, and emotional abuse. The exception is reviewing and acting on CORI reports, which is covered by other procedures.

For incidents or situations brought to the IRG that involve relationships between individuals that do not appear to pose danger, the approach of the IRG may be to mediate concerns, i.e., to help individuals clarify the source of their discomfort, to work with them to develop an effective means of resolving the problem, and to share information about appropriate resources. If appropriate, the IRG may delegate this work to others, e.g., the Minister or a Lay Minister.

For situations involving physical dangers in the building or on the grounds, the IRG may involve and delegate to appropriate staff and Action Teams to address problems.

For situations involving individuals who may pose risk of abuse or danger, the IRG may respond confidentially to protect and support all members of the community while it clarifies and defines a potentially abusive relationship or dangerous situation, while possible charges are investigated, or a legal complaint is being considered or made.

Confidentiality: If appropriate or requested, the IRG, as well as outside consultants if they are used, will maintain the confidentiality of those approaching the IRG with a concern or complaint and the confidentiality of those being asked to consider their behavior or to respond to a concern or complaint, unless state or federal law require them to do otherwise.

Training, preparation, operations, and communication: Members of the IRG will make efforts to be well informed about the Follen policies on safety and knowledgeable about available resources for adults and children, as well as mandated reporting procedures. To ensure a safe and just process for all concerned, the IRG will make efforts to take appropriate steps to take responsibility for:

1. Developing and implementing procedures that are consistent with this policy and training new IRG members in those procedures.
2. Overseeing a process in which all parties, including the reporter, are treated with dignity, respect, and support.
3. Designating a single individual to respond to questions from the public media as may be appropriate or necessary.
4. If appropriate, facilitating a healing process for the congregation.
5. Regularly informing the congregation about the existence, purposes, and procedures of the IRG.

B. CORI policy

Overview: Follen will make efforts to develop, implement, and maintain a process for requesting, receiving, reviewing, archiving, and acting on the results for CORI checks that includes elements that are consistent with the Model Policy recommended by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.¹

Communications. Follen leadership will make efforts to inform Members, Friends, and staff about CORI policy and procedures. Communication efforts may include but are not limited to: (1) periodic notice to the Follen community that CORIs are required for staff and selected volunteer positions; (2) written material to accompany the individual request for a CORI release that explains why a CORI is being requested, how the information will be handled, and that the Follen policy on CORIs is available on request; and (3) administrative systems for notifying managers of activities that staff and volunteers have been checked and approved.

The CORI Officer: The CORI Officer (CO) will be a trusted and respected member of the staff or the Membership who commits to performing this function on a long-term basis. The CO will be named by the President after consultation with the Parish Board and Program Council through the Coordinating Team. The CO will authorize a check on his/her own record. The CO's CORI will be reviewed by the President of the Program Council. If no items of concern are found, the CO will be formally designated by the President. The CO will take steps to acquire and maintain relevant training and may also provide or recommend outside training for others involved in the CORI review process.

CORI checks on employees and job applicants: CORI checks will be performed on all existing Follen employees and on candidates for paid staff positions who receive an offer of employment. Hiring will be conditional on a satisfactory CORI review, as per the review process below. These checks will be updated as recommended (every three years as of November 2010). Additionally, during the hiring process, the relevant search committee, task force or Action Team will take measures that are prudent under the circumstances, and which may include but not be limited to contacting references and checking the state sex offender registry. The results will be documented in the employment record. At the discretion of the search group, CORI checks from other states may be performed.

CORI checks on volunteers: Efforts will be made to obtain CORI checks on volunteers who work closely with vulnerable Members and Friends in settings and situations where other adults are not routinely present. Vulnerable Members and Friends include children and youth under 18, as well as adults seeking emotional or spiritual support. The specific categories of individuals to have CORI checks will be established by the Action Teams and their affiliated staff in a manner that is consistent with this policy. In addition, because the President may be involved in CORI reviews, s/he will agree to a CORI check prior to assuming office as President.

Review of other CORIs: When a CORI check results in a concern, the CO will first check to ensure that the CORI record is that of the individual involved. If it does match the individual, the CO will consult with the Parish Minister (if the CO is a parishioner) or the President (if the CO is a staff member). Together, the CO and the consultant will determine whether the CORI finding may limit the individual's participation in the activity for which the CORI was requested, using guidance that includes but is not limited to the following:

1. Relevance of the crime to the position sought.
2. The nature of the work to be performed.
3. Time since the conviction.
4. Age of the candidate at the time of the offense.
5. Seriousness and specific circumstances of the offense.
6. The number of offenses.

7. Whether the individual has pending charges.
8. Any relevant evidence of rehabilitation or lack thereof.
9. Any other relevant information, including information submitted by the individual or requested by the church.

If a limitation appears to be in order, the CO will inform the individual, who will be given a copy of the CORI and a copy of the Follen CORI policy and advised what part of the CORI record is relevant to limiting involvement.

The individual will have an opportunity to dispute the accuracy and relevance of the CORI record, including steps to check the accuracy of the record through the State. If after these checks, the CO and consultant reasonably believe the record belongs to the applicant and is accurate, they will make a determination whether or not the individual can be involved in the activity(ies) under consideration, and whether any restrictions will be placed on involvement. The CO or consultant may bring in the Incident Response Group as they see fit to help in the deliberations. If there is a decision that the individual may participate in the activities under consideration, other Members, Friends, and staff involved in those activities may be informed of the agreement and the terms as appropriate. If there is a decision that the individual may not participate in the activities under consideration, the staff member or lay leader in charge of the activities will be notified. Beyond these deliberations, the CORI finding, the decisions, and the agreement will be kept confidential.

Storage of CORI reports: Paper CORI reports will be kept in a locked cabinet or safe in a locked office in the church. No CORI report shall be transmitted or maintained by Follen staff or by the CO via any electronic means. Any CORI report leaving Follen premises shall be kept in a secure and locked location and be returned to the Follen premises as soon as possible.

Renewal of CORIs: The CO will establish a system to ensure that CORIs are kept up to date and renewed when they expire for active volunteers and staff.

C. Safety of Children

The safety of our children and youth is a paramount concern to Follen families, Members, and Friends. Follen provides many activities for children and youth and other activities in which children and youth are involved. It is our responsibility to make efforts to see that participating children and youth are safe from harm and abuse of any kind.

Two Adult Policy: Program leaders and managers should make efforts to ensure that two adults are present at and supervise all Follen-sponsored activities for children and youth. Exceptions to this policy may be granted only (1) when one-to-one contacts may be important to the nature of the activity, e.g., mentoring in the Coming of Age Program, and even then only with the explicit written permission of parents or guardians, and (2) in the case of transporting youth on Follen-sponsored activities.

Children with Special Needs: Leaders of children's events and activities will make efforts to inform parents or caretakers of children with special needs that parents/caretakers should share any information necessary to ensure the emotional and physical safety of their children, or to facilitate any needed accommodations, or to handle emergency situations.

Attendance Policy for RE classes and other events: In order to ensure that the responsible adults are able to account for each child or youth, leaders should make efforts to take attendance for events for children and youth. The attendance records should be kept in a manner that will facilitate accounting for children in the event of an emergency. Children and youth should be advised that they should not leave a class/group meeting without telling teachers or advisors, even in cases of a youth who is over 18 years of age.

Events and activities away from Follen: Specific procedures will be developed to promote safety for children and youth for these Follen activities and/or venues:

1. Cape Cod Weekend
2. Cardigan Lodge Weekend
3. East Village Fair
4. FUUY Youth Retreat
5. Operetta
6. Other “events” and/or “activities” and/or venues of similar nature and scope as the above

Field Trip Policies: When children and youth are transported to activities not in Follen buildings, on Follen grounds, in the Waldorf School, or on the Waldorf grounds, the policies enumerated below should be followed:

1. A field trip is any planned activity not in the neighborhood of the church, and that may require transportation.
2. Children and youth must be registered for the RE program and/or youth group before going on a field trip.
3. Permission slips signed by a parent or guardian are required for all field trips.
4. Drivers on field trips will be licensed, insured and at least 21 years of age unless there is explicit, signed, prior approval by parents or guardians to allow transportation by a licensed youth driver.
5. Drivers on field trips will be subject to the Follen CORI policy, which requires a CORI review and approval for driving children and youth.
6. Appropriate car seat/booster seat must be used based on a child's size/age.
7. All children under the age of 11 will ride in the back seat.
8. All drivers and passengers in a vehicle will not exceed the number of seats
9. Seat belts must be engaged (no double belting allowed).
10. There will be communication with the parents of children/youth about the purpose, length, time and destination of the field trip. The Professional Religious Educator's approval is required for all field trips.

11. Transportation to and from Sunday evening youth group is not considered to be under the auspices of the church's authority, and an individual youth's safety at that time is to be arranged by the youth's family.
12. All advisors for overnight field trips will be subject to a CORI check.

Policy on alcohol, tobacco, and illicit drug use:

1. Tobacco, alcohol, and illicit drug use is prohibited at all youth events at Follen and off-site by both adult chaperones and the youth.
2. No sexual activity is permitted at youth events, either on-site or off-site.
3. Any youth who arrives at any youth activity with or under the influence of alcohol or illicit drugs, or is suspected to be under the influence of drugs or alcohol, will be sent home immediately with parental notification and the Professional Religious Educator will be notified. When feasible, the child/youth will return home with his/her parent or guardian.

D. Physical Safety

Overview: Follen Community Church owns the land and the church building located at 755 Massachusetts Avenue; the land and building known as the Marshman Center with an address at 763 Massachusetts Avenue; and the unimproved land across from the aforementioned Marshman Center and with an unnumbered address of Massachusetts Avenue, all in Lexington, MA. These properties are herein collectively referred to the Follen Church properties.

We recognize that we must attempt to provide a physically safe environment for all who participate in activities on Follen Church grounds and in our buildings, as well as activities that occur elsewhere which are sanctioned or sponsored by Follen Church or any of its officially organized groups.

Ultimately it is the responsibility of those who participate in or at all Follen Church-related events or in and on Follen Church properties to attempt, with respect and concern, to be vigilant and aware of the physical safety and security for themselves and each other.

We will always strive to remain in compliance with federal, state and local building and life safety codes and guidelines that apply to the Follen Church properties We will also work to maintain the physical conditions and appearances of these properties because of their congregational and community history and heritage.

Physical safety guidelines and procedures will be developed and implemented for the activities, venues and third parties listed herein, as well as for others that may be added from time to time:

1. Worship Services.
2. Religious Education classes, including youth programs and activities.
3. Music and Choir programs, including the Operetta and Concerts for a Cause.

4. Traditional congregational activities such as the East Village Fair, Christmas Tree sale, Cape Cod and Cardigan Mountain weekends, and the Follen Angels.
5. Public and private events that are held at the Follen Church properties involving outside organizations and groups.
6. Rental and lease agreements.
7. Contractors and others who are hired or asked by Follen to perform services.
8. Other events, activities and venues as they occur.

Responsible Parties: Those primarily but not solely responsible for establishing safety and security procedures as they may pertain to activities at or around the Follen Church Properties or elsewhere at church-sanctioned events include:

1. Church Administrator.
2. Director (or Minister) of Religious Education.
3. Director (or Minister) of Music.
4. Head Usher.
5. Chairperson of the East Village Fair.
6. Chairperson of the Buildings & Grounds Action Team, in conjunction with the Church Sexton.
7. Chairperson of the Community & Hospitality Action Team.

Physical Safety and Security Procedures: The Responsible Parties listed will attempt to put into place procedures and guidelines that address the importance of creating and maintaining a safe physical environment. To the extent possible, the responsible parties will establish these procedures and guidelines in accord with the rights and privacy of those participating in activities in and on the Follen Church properties, as well as the sanctity and history of those properties. All written procedures must be kept in an easily accessible location. These procedures may include, but are not limited to:

1. Guidelines and annual training for all Ushers and others participating in Worship Services. These guidelines may be updated annually as needed and include fire safety and other emergency evacuation plans, as well as responses to medical emergencies and situations that may pose a threat to the safety of participants, and accessibility paths.
2. Annual training for teachers and mentors in evacuation and emergency response procedures for all Religious Education classes, and Music and Choir events (including practices and rehearsals). This includes holding periodic announced fire drills and communicating with local emergency response officials to insure that up to date contact information is available at all times.
3. Semi-annual inspections of all first-aid stations in Follen Church, with restocking and replacement as necessary.
4. Annual inspections of all fire extinguishers and alarm systems in Follen Church buildings pursuant to local and state building codes.
5. Annual inspections of any lifts, elevators and ramps in Follen Church buildings.
6. Monitoring and maintaining all entrance and exit points on Follen Church properties.

7. Limiting and controlling access to Follen Church properties.
8. Promptly making repairs to the Follen Church buildings and properties that are needed to ensure the physical safety of everyone using them.
9. Ensuring that there is written communication with all potential Renters and Tenants explaining their responsibilities to ensure safety at their events and in their spaces.
10. Establishing a chain of command to report about and respond to incidents, and establishing a communication tree to issue warnings as needed.
11. Establishing of a procedure for reporting incidents and detrimental conditions to the IRG.
12. Instituting other procedures as needed to ensure physical safety and security.

This section of the Safe Congregation Policy may be made available on the Follen Church website.

E. The Special Relationship between Ministers and Congregants

We as a community expect all our ministers, including called, hired, intern, interim, emerita or emeritus, and affiliate, to abide by the following code of professional practice, which is adapted from the Code of the UU Ministers' Association. The code acknowledges that ministers are the recipients of automatic trust. It comments directly on the issue of clergy misconduct and prohibits abuse of the trust congregations place in their ministers. In subscribing to this code, ministers agree not to exploit the powers inherent in their roles.

The code of practice is as follows:

1. I will not engage in sexual contact or sexualized behavior with any minor child or unwilling adult.
2. I will not engage in sexual contact or sexualized behavior in potentially exploitive relationships, including with any person I am counseling, with interns, and with any staff person I supervise directly or indirectly except my spouse or partner.
3. I will respect the relationships of those to whom I minister, and not engage in sexual contact or sexualized behavior with any married or partnered client or member of the congregation, agency or enterprise I serve, or with the spouse or partner of a client or member of the institution.
4. If I am married or in a committed partnership I will not engage in sexual contact or sexualized behavior with any person whom I serve professionally except my spouse or partner.
5. In pursuing a romantic relationship with a client or member of the congregation, I will recognize the potential negative consequences for my ministry and/or the institutional system, and I will consider the advice of colleagues and consult with Follen's Coordinating Team, the Mass Bay District Executive and the Director of the Department of Ministry of the UUA.

In the case of an alleged violation of this Code by reason of ministerial misconduct with a current or former congregant of any age or with a staff member, the accused minister must recuse him/herself from the Coordinating Team. The Coordinating Team may choose an alternate member to replace the accused minister by the procedure outlined in Section II A. The Coordinating Team will consider and determine an appropriate course of action. Such course of action may include initiating contact with the Mass Bay District Executive and Director of the Department of Ministry of the UUA to initiate an investigation. The Coordinating Team will then work with the lay leadership team to establish the most appropriate methods of communicating, counseling and responding to reactions within the congregation and the community.
