The Community and Hospitality Action Team (CHAT) envisions Follen Church as a place where connections are made, friendships developed, learning takes place and spiritual journeys are supported in a fun, warm and welcoming community. Helping people make connections with one another to increase their feeling of community is a big focus of our team and we work hard to make this happen. While weekly services are a starting point for many of us, it is the weekly and monthly events that connect us, excite us, and help us feel part of the whole. Three committees fall within CHAT: Communications, Membership and Social Events.

FHRAT includes the Human Resources and Stewardship committees and is also responsible for the three major budgeted fund raisers: the East Village Fair, Christmas tree sales and the Goods and Services Auction.

BOOKS FOR CHELSEA

Contact: Sarah Richards sjrichards68@gmail.com

Chelsea is the smallest and one of the poorest cities in MA. Children here have little access to books. As a pediatrician at the MGH-Chelsea HealthCare Center, I collect children's books that children may take home with them when they visit us. This helps promote literacy and love for reading and supplements the free books we give out at the Well Child Visit from ages 1-5 through the National Reach Out and Read Program.

ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE ACTION TEAM (EJAT)

Chairs: Jean Foster jean@jeanfoster.org

Anne Engelhart engelhart@rcn.com

The Environmental Justice Task Force (EJTF) believes that global warming is a social justice issue because those who will suffer its effects first and most devastatingly are those people of the world who have done the least to cause the problem. EJTF works to raise awareness at Follen about climate change and about actions we can take as a community and as individuals to address it. This year we will be providing information about how to lower our carbon footprint by 20%, both as individuals and as a community, and working to divest our holdings from fossil fuels so that we can reinvest in sustainable energy initiatives. We welcome new members who are interested in learning about and acting on environmental issues.

GUN VIOLENCE PREVENTION GROUP (GVPG)

Contact: Anne Grady agrady@econconnect.com

Each year in the US gun violence -- murders, suicides and accidents -- kills more than 30,000 people, including 2,700 children and teens, rates far higher than in any other developed country. The Gun Violence Prevention Group is working to reduce these tragic statistics by becoming informed, lobbying for stronger state and federal gun laws, participating in related activities, and educating the Follen community about this important issue.

KIVA MICRO-LOAN PROGRAM

Contact: Karen Gray Carruthers karenggray@nesop.com

The Kiva Micro-Loan Program envisions a world where all people - even in the most remote areas of the globe - hold the power to create opportunity for themselves and others. Kiva's mission is to connect people through lending to alleviate poverty. Follen Church makes micro-loans to people throughout the world. It could be a shepherd in Nigeria, a seamstress in Azerbaijan or a taxi driver in the United States. And when the money is paid back, we re-loan it again and again. Together we embrace the world. Who should we loan to next?

Short term tasks: If you are looking for rewarding work with a limited time commitment (even just using a computer to pick a few loans), we are looking for you!

LEXINGTON INTERFAITH GARDEN

Contact: Janet Lane j.f.lane@rcn.com

Since 2010 Lexington's Interfaith Garden has provided over a ton of fresh local produce to the Lexington Food Pantry annually. Volunteers of all ages from over fourteen faith communities work together while planting, tending and harvesting organically grown produce. Follen sends two volunteers for two work sessions a month during the growing season on a Saturday morning or Tuesday afternoon. You'll learn on the spot, no experience needed. (The garden is next to First Parish UU Church.)

The Lift Up Lexington (LUL) team provides support for homeless families who live at the Quality Inn Hotel in Lexington. LUL is under the aegis of the Lexington Interfaith Clergy Association. Follen Church works with other religious institutions in Lexington to provide support for families living in the hotel. Families often live in one room with only a microwave and a small refrigerator. Volunteer opportunities include: providing rides to the food pantry twice a month, a community meal once a month, and assisting with a social outing once a month. In addition, other items like diapers and Charlie Cards are provided as funds become available.

NEW ORLEANS GULF RELIEF (NOLA)

Contact: Ann Schauffler ann.schauffler@gmail.com

Since April 2006, Follen volunteers have traveled to New Orleans twice a year to rebuild New Orleans homes and businesses following Hurricane Katrina. Working with a New Orleans-based UU organization, groups of Follen adults and high school and/or college youth have worked with families and residents to restore homes and communities. Annual fundraising through soup sales and a youth group coffee house, as well as a Share the Plate offering help us to buy building materials for Follen's service projects.

PARTNER CHURCH COMMITTEE (PCC)

Chair: Sarah Richards sjrichards68@gmail.com

The Partner Church Committee, established in 1998, was Follen's response to a UU initiative to foster relationships with, and to help rebuild, Unitarian congregations long isolated in Eastern Europe. Our Partner Church is a Hungarian Unitarian congregation in Alsófelsőszentmihály, Transylvania, Romania. Our support for this congregation has included educational scholarships, the renovation of church buildings, and financial support for the minister and church programs. Visits between our congregations have deepened this relationship.

SUNDAY'S BREAD

Sunday's Bread is a program that serves free, hot meals to people in need in Boston every Sunday of the year. With its sister program, Saturday's Bread, it serves 9,000 to 10,000 meals a year. Follen supports the program with a financial contribution and by sending teams of volunteers to cook and serve meals.

URBAN MINISTRY CONGREGATIONAL TEAM (UMCT)

Contact: Tempe Goodhue tgoodhue@aol.com

Uniting communities, transforming lives. That's what the UU Urban Ministry does for both the people it serves and those who volunteer. The five life-changing -- sometimes even lifesaving -- programs of UU Urban Ministry address a variety of needs in the Roxbury community. This ministry-at-large literally owes its existence to the volunteer engagement and financial support of its member congregations: that means us. The UMCT can help Follenites make a connection with a UUUM program for a single event or a more sustained time.

WELCOMING CONGREGATION COORDINATING COMMITTEE (WCCC)

Contacts: Jane Spickett janespickett@gmail.com

Jane Bausch jbausch@earthlink.net

WCC supports and leads the ongoing work of this congregation, both here and in the world at large, to heal the emotional and spiritual harm done to LGBT people and their families, to share the blessing of loving and being loved in community with all, and to be advocates for justice.

WOMEN'S LUNCH PLACE

The Women's Lunch Place is a safe, welcoming day community for all self-identified women who are experiencing homelessness or poverty.
