Welcoming special guest,
peace pioneer Tina Chery,
founder of the Louis D.
Brown Peace Institute

Follen returns for the sixth year to the UU Urban Ministry and its historic, beautiful First Church in Roxbury for our multigenerational Thanksgiving service. The Wellesley Hills congregation will share the service with us, as they did in 2009.

Follen's adult, youth, and junior choirs will sing. Nursery care will be provided during the service, and refreshments and tours of the UU Urban Ministry campus will follow.

Free bus transportation is available:

- Departing Follen: (Please be there 15 minutes before departure.)
 - 8:30 a.m. for choir members and other early birds
 - 9:15 a.m. for everyone else
- Departing Roxbury: Boarding starts at noon, and buses will leave as filled. Last bus leaves by 1 p.m.

Sign up for a bus (one way or round trip) or ride sharing (directions available):

- At hospitality hour following services on 10/28, 11/4, and 11/11
- By contacting Sarah Garner before 11/15 in the Follen office at sarah.garner@follen.org or 781-862-3805, x205
