

Ageing With Intention: A Three-Part Series

Sunday, March 22 / 12:30-2 pm

Being Mortal: Medicine and What Matters in the End

A discussion of the popular book by Dr. Atul Gawande, surgeon at Brigham and Women's Hospital, author and keen thinker on the intersection between medicine and an individual's end of life. Light lunch will be provided.

In the Anne Smith Room. Please RSVP to larenella@bentley.edu

Sunday, April 12 / 12:30-2 pm

Ageing: Dreams, Values and Spiritual Outlook

Facilitated by Linda Dacey and Maggie Herzig

An opportunity for participants to interactively explore sources of fulfillment and identity in the past, evolving aspects of their selves, and the intentions they hope to bring into the future as they age. Light lunch will be provided.

In the Anne Smith Room. Please RSVP to ldacey5@gmail.com

Sunday, April 26 / 7:30-9 pm

Contemporary Models for Ageing: Where and How We Live

An exploration of alternative community and housing models for people from the newly-retired to the elderly, where one can experience connectedness and autonomy while having access to needed services. Guest speakers and Follenites will contribute their expertise and experience to the conversation.

In the Community Center. Please RSVP to amynewmark@verizon.net

These programs are sponsored jointly by the Follen Church Pastoral Care Action Team (PCAT)
and its member groups