

The Ties That Bind

A Celebration for Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Opera unMet brings their critically acclaimed performance The Ties That Bind to the UU Urban Ministry/First Church in Roxbury this Sunday. Through music, readings and interactive participation, this celebration has drawn diverse audiences together in Boston for over 20 years to reflect on the great works and words of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Sunday, January 15, at 3 pm
First Church in Roxbury
UU Urban Ministry
10 Putnam St.
Roxbury, MA 02119

Music ranges from Spirituals to American Folk, and the audience is invited to read some of King's great words. Featuring Alan Rias, Marta Rymer, Taiko Drummer, Mark Rooney, Cliff Blake, Ellen Polansky, and Marshall Hughes.

The performance is family-friendly, thought provoking and inspiring. It has been called "one of the brightest lights to shine on MLK Day."

Suggested donation $10

Plus... The paint is up and the scaffolding has come down! Attendees to The Ties That Bind will be some of our first visitors to see the newly renovated First Church in Roxbury exterior!

Completing the exterior renovation project, which began last spring, is a major milestone in the UU Urban Ministry's plans to "Bring the Meetinghouse Back to the Community." This historic building will soon provide Roxbury with a major venue for arts and cultural programming, civic gatherings, and special events that bring people together across the divides of race, class, and faith.
