FLEA MARKET/BAKE SALE DONATION GUIDANCE

Only flea items worth $10 or more, and baked goods sellable at $5 or more will be accepted

Fundamental Fleas: The Fabulous Follen Flea Market needs not only an amazing selection of the usual fundamental fleas, but also, special types of donations: Finer Fleas, Books, and Jewelry. We are looking for the good stuff you no longer need: household goods, toys, games (please ensure that toys/games are complete with all parts), light furniture (which can be lifted and carried by one person; no fabric or upholstered items due to possible contamination such as pet odors, vermin, etc) and sports equipment. Please make sure that all items have working parts and are in good condition and use this form to describe each item worth at least $10 and submit a picture.

PLEASE - NO clothing, computers, monitors, computer accessories, TVs, VCRs, electronics in general, wooden crutches, knives or old stereo systems.

Finer Fleas: We will do our best to get a good price for the valuable items that you donate. If we can get a better price at a public auction, we will sell it that way. Please use this form to describe and submit a picture of each of your Finer Flea items.

Baked Goods: We need your yummy contributions! Please use this form to describe and submit EACH OF your delicious baked items, or group of items. If you have a picture to use please upload it; otherwise we'll find a generic image to use. We'll let you know by no later than noon on Thursday, October 1st which of your items were purchased. Drop off your baked goods at Follen on Thursday, October 1st between 1pm & 7pm or Friday, October 2nd between 10am & 5pm. Baked items should be grouped and securely wrapped so they are appealing at a price of $5 or more. For example, multiple cookies could be packed in a single Ziploc bag, or brownies could be packaged in individual bags and multiple baggies could be sold for $5, an individual pie could be wrapped securely and sold for $10. All items submitted for the bake sale should be expected to be worth at least $5.

Jewelry: We will sell a smaller number of selected jewelry on-line this year, so bring the "good stuff" and continue the East Village Fair Jewelry Chain! Here's how it works:

-First, put on your mask and drop off your donation! Deadline is Sunday, Sept 20 by 7:00 pm, drop at either of two locations: Janet Lane's porch, 21 Hayward Street, Lexington (near Minuteman Technical High School) Howie Bernstein's house, 6 Oak Street, inside breezeway between house and garage (near Follen)

-Next, everybody buys jewelry for themselves and their loved ones at the on-line flea market/auction (a donation to Follen and a gift).

-Finally, the chain is closed when you find yourself admiring your jewelry on your Follen friend!! Giving links us all together.

Books, DVDs and CDs: Please examine your books before donating, GENTLY USED books are needed. This year, we'll need to increase the value of donations so that it makes sense to purchase them at a minimum value of $10. Therefore, we'll need you to make a judgement call and use this form to describe and submit pictures (spines or covers) of only groups of MULTIPLE books falling in the following categories :

- A particular genre, like Sci Fi
- Books for toddlers
- Books for adolescents
- Series of books for any of the above
- Grouping of books of a particular author or genre for adults

NO text books, books with mold, storage odors, ripped pages, writing, or outdated books. NO VCR or cassette tapes or records. No computer-related books as they become outdated quickly.

WE WILL accept CDs and DVDs grouped as multiple items (minimum value of $10), perhaps grouped by genre of music, or performed by the same musician or a series of a particular movie (for example, multiple movies in a particular Disney series).
